

St Mawes SC February 2017 Bulletin

Social Programme

Thursday 9th 2000 - A BOATBUILDERS STORY - A talk by Gary MITCHELL of Port Mellon. Between 1923 and the mid 1960's Percy Mitchell built a total of 324 boats, first in Mevagissey and later Port Mellon. Described by legendary Yachtsman Claud Worth as "An artist in wood" he built many fishing and sailing craft. This talk is given by Percy's son Gary who worked on many of these craft with his father and gives an amusing and fascinating account of a Cornish Boatbuilding Legend.

Thursday 23rd 2000 - THE ROYAL NAVAL PRESENTATION TEAM

For all those who are fed up with watching Russian Aircraft Carriers casually sail up and down the Channel without a hint of an RN Broadside being fired, this is your chance. This evening is designed for all those that are wondering what has become of the greatest Navy the world has ever seen. The RN PT travel the country explaining the role composition and potency of the modern RN in a presentation specifically designed for "Disgruntled of St Mawes"

Saturday 25th 1930 - FOWEY GALLANTS Sailing Club visit St Mawes Sailing Club
This is our annual chance to repay the famous hospitality paid to our crews during Fowey Week and it is hoped that a good number of members particularly from the Working Boat crews are able to turn out to look after them. Fish and chips will be available.

Junior Sail Training Courses

Bookings for Junior Sail Training are coming in fast. If you have not done so already you are strongly advised to book now. Go to this link

Adult Training

We are delighted to have a volunteer to promote the Adult Sail Training. Mark Lytham, who did the training two years ago, will be the coordinator and you can contact him via adultraining@stmawessailing.co.uk. So far we are likely to have an intermediate group on Thursdays and there is also an opportunity for a beginners group on a different day. All courses will finish by 1500hrs but start times can be flexible.

Advance warning:

Annual Quay Cleaning 0930 on Easter Saturday, 15th April.
